

ACASS
OWN YOUR JOURNEY®

GIVE YOUR CAREER A LIFT WITH ACASS

In an age of easy access to do-it yourself job search resources, working with the world's most experienced and connected business aviation crew staffing service still offers unbeatable advantages.

REAL-WORLD ADVANTAGES

There is no shortage these days of job boards, social media platforms, and online resources that help flight crew connect directly with employers. So it is fair to ask, “Why should I use ACASS to help me find work?”

The simplest and most honest way for us to answer that question is to summarize some of the real-world advantages ACASS offers every pilot, flight attendant, and engineer we work with. Take a look and weigh them against what you get from any self-service employment option available.

BEEN THERE, DONE THAT

We have been helping flight crew find work for a long time. Since 1994 to be precise. We have placed flight crew in contract, part-time, and permanent positions all over the world. In short, we know what we are doing, and we know how to find and lock down the best opportunities for you.

MORE THAN MIDDLE MEN

We know you didn't go into aviation because you love paperwork and administration. So we coordinate hotels, flight arrangements, ground transfers and other arrangements to and from the job. We also coordinate your visas, validations, and training requirements, and make sure you are paid on time. In other words, you do what you're best at and we deal with the rest.

SAFETY IS NEVER SECONDARY

Because ACASS is a 360-degree business aviation service provider offering full-service aircraft sales, aircraft management, and Safety Management System compliance, we take safety very seriously. In fact, we are among a select group of aircraft operators worldwide to be issued an IS-BAO Stage 3 registration by the International Business Aviation Council. Your safety is always our priority.

ALWAYS IN TOUCH

We don't just connect you to an employer and wish you luck. Once you are on a project, our team stays in contact and at your disposal for any help or support you might need. Our staffing and management teams are dedicated to your well-being wherever you are dispatched throughout the world.

FRIENDS IN HIGH PLACES

ACASS has strong relationships with industry key players, OEMs, civil aviation authorities, and training providers. And because we have successful international aircraft sales and aircraft management services, we are in constant contact with employers all over the world. What all of this means for you is access to more opportunities and more international support.

THE PERSONAL TOUCH

Pilots flying for an ACASS managed aircraft project are brought in to our headquarters in advance of being dispatched to meet the team and receive a full company orientation. We want to make sure you are completely comfortable with the operational requirements, the ACASS team, and the client you will be supporting.

DON'T TAKE IT FROM US...

There is more we can and would love to share with you, but we know you can't exactly consider us objective. Fortunately, the crew who have put their careers in our hands for years say it better, and more flatteringly, than we could say ourselves anyway.

"I've been working with ACASS for over 9 years on different contracts and aircraft, and the company never ceases to amaze me. The fair and honest support I've received from this wonderful team, from recruitment, to running the project, to management, is absolutely amazing. You are never too small for even top management to take interest in you."

— Eyal Benno, Captain

"It is a pleasure going to work knowing there is a highly motivated team of professionals behind you making sure your voyage is joyful and successful. All aspects of the operation are handled promptly on a moment to moment basis and the transparency in communication is second to none. ACASS takes your flight operation experience to a new height."

— Hafsteinn Thorsteinsson, Captain

"I can always count on ACASS for top-tier service and professional conduct. Their operations are well structured, communications are prompt and friendly, and all behind the scenes details are taken care of. Throughout the entire operation, nothing is too much trouble and no effort is spared. If you are looking for a solution-orientated team of true professionals, I highly recommend ACASS."

— Alexandre Molteno, Captain

"All the pilots I know who have flown under ACASS contracts in the Middle East say the same thing: 'ACASS plays fair and pays on time.' ACASS is the most efficient, modern organization I have worked for in a very long time. You can get ahold of somebody 24/7, 365. ACASS does it all, and they do it well."

— Dan Hopkins, Captain

"I have been flying for ACASS for 6 years and I have found them to be extremely professional, helpful, and very friendly. ACASS books all my accommodations, ensures my documentation is always up to date, and briefs me on the client, all way in advance of the job. Compared to other companies I've worked with, ACASS is way above the rest."

— Marius Van Der Berg, Captain

"Since I started flying for ACASS, I have gone places I would have never imagined traveling to; almost 30 countries this year to date. I am surrounded by the most professional, helpful, and supportive people in all of aviation. I will forever be thankful for such an awesome group of people to work with."

— Shawn T. Henning, Captain

"Being based in Africa with a six-hour time difference can be challenging, but regardless of what time it might be, ACASS has been there to help. All of our flights and hotels are booked through the ACASS travel department; our training records and documentation are all kept on-file and ACASS makes sure all are valid and up to date. I am truly proud and honored to be part of the ACASS team."

— Gordon Holder, Captain

"ACASS is a wonderful company with great opportunities. Support is always there while on duty and staff is very helpful, professional, and accessible. I highly recommend ACASS to crew around the world; you will be in good hands."

— Wafaa Aoun, Flight Attendant